The Power to Be YourSelf™

WHAT IS ILLUMINESSENCE?

We're all too familiar with the feeling that sometimes we need to recreate or restore our bodies, emotions, minds and spirits to their natural balanced state. It is easy to fill our lives and homes with things that are not conducive to our good health, and that can actually cause us to lose sight of our inner self.

IlluminEssence is a system that makes it possible to uncover and restore the innate and unique qualities that we were born with: those things that make us uniquely ourselves, including the way we get things done, the way we relate to others, how we handle various situations, and our basic natural impulses, drives and patterns.

Quantum physics teaches us that everything is made up of a vibrating energy field – in both physical and non-physical dimensions. We, ourselves, are living, radiating, energetic fields that can actually be measured. Our inner qualities, blended with our physical qualities (i.e., shape of our limbs, hair, skin and eye pigmentation, skin texture, etc.), are the “sound” (tone) that we emanate.

Consider this: shape, design lines, texture and color are all vibratory in nature, and these same elements in our clothing affect the energy field of our body. Together, these elements create either a resonant or dissonant energy field that affects how we feel and how others perceive us. When the clothing we wear is aligned with our inner vibration, others are attracted to us because of the integrity of our being and the harmony that we radiate. Conversely, if we are wearing clothing whose elements do not support us at our core, dissonance is created, and it will undermine our credibility and feeling of well-being. People may not understand us or trust us because of the dissonance. We may feel a lack of confidence and ability to magnetize what (and who) we want in our life.

Is your appearance aligned with your true inner nature? IlluminEssence is a process to improve the way you feel and the way others perceive you.
